

PMDNAGUSHI: Noguchi Tribeca Replika Coffee Table

Originally introduced in 1947, this Isamu Noguchi design is one of the most iconic pieces of mid-century furniture. This coffee table, reproduced and distributed by us features a triangular glass top and two legs with asymmetrical design, giving it a very distinctive look among any coffee table design. The wooden legs provide a very stable support for any decorative piece on top of the glass, while remaining a statement piece by itself. The Noguchi table reproduction is the perfect addition to any living room, office, or room. This high-quality reproduction is manufactured to the exact same specifications as the original.

Base interlocks to form a stable tripod for the glass top. .75" thick slab of transparent glass with a unique round beveled edge. Functions as both furniture and art in homes and offices. Meets architectural specifications of the original design. Coats of UV-cured Polyurethane finish for a glass-like, highly scratch-resistant shine that never needs waxing. Sculptured Premium hardwood walnut wood base and clear tempered .75" premium tempered glass top.

Specifications:

Product: 50" L x 36" W x 16" H

Top Shipping: 50" L x 36" W x .75" H; Weight - 119lb

Leg Shipping: 20" L x 3" W x 41" H; Weight: 17lb

Our Noguchi Tribeca Coffee Table is not manufactured by Herman Miller and it is not Isamu Noguchi's coffee table original. We are not associated or affiliated with Herman Miller or Isamu Noguchi. We make no claims to provide the table from the designer and licensing company. Please be aware that Herman Miller is a registered brand.